Mrs. C. Corwith Wagner
514 Midvale
St. Louis, Missouri

Dear Mrs. Wagner:

You will recall that a few weeks ago I telephoned you with respect to various pieces of paper money which your husband owned. I was hoping that in due course you would locate a $10 Bank of Missouri note which I know he had in his collection.

You told me that he had certain Civil War Greenbacks, etc. and at any time I could have the opportunity of seeing these notes I would like to as there may be some varieties which I could add to my collection.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN

Dear Bev and John:

This is my formal thank you for your thoughtfulness in bringing home for us some of the Danube River area coinage. It has just been put away in proper order and joins other pieces which were a little more mature.

Evelyn and I look forward to hearing more about your trip.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Mr. Adrian Wainwright
28 Albert Bridge Road
London, England

Dear Mr. Wainwright:

My wife met you last week at a stall in Islington while on a buying trip for antiques. She said you had some fine coin scales, particularly an unusual one for about £50, a brass box folding scale, etc. She said you had a German customer for some of your scales. How about making me an American customer. I am particularly interested in old guinea scales of various kinds. I collect coin scales and will pay retail prices for them. Please send me by air mail a list of what you have with condition and price. If you have coin weights, please let me know.

Some left over stamps are enclosed for your reply. I hope your cold is long gone by now.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Messrs. Geoffrey & Paul Wakeman

ENGLAND

Dear Messrs. Wakeman:

We have just purchased one of your copies of Bradbury & Evans books on nature printing. It is beautiful and of particular interest to us because nature printing was apparently invented by Benjamin Franklin in 1738 and the reinvention by Auer and Bradford was entirely without knowledge of the Franklin accomplishment.

I personally wrote the history of the Franklin invention which was published in 1964. I do not know whether you were familiar with that situation or not.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr. Waken:

When I met you at the Marriott in St. Louis, you told me that you had a large selection of Missouri tokens, and I told you that I had a number of Oklahoma items. The suggestion was made that possibly we can work out a trade to improve both of our collections.

Accordingly, I am enclosing photocopies of Oklahoma pieces which I have available and I would appreciate if you would give me some kind of list or description of the Missouri items which you have.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr Newman

Thanks so much for your letter and zerox copies of the Oklahoma Trade Scrip. Please find enclosed zerox copies of all my Missouri Trade Tokens & Encased Cents. I do want to apologize because I thought I had many more.

I am interested in working a trade of any or all of my tokens for any or all of your Oklahoma Trade Scrip. Please let me know what your interest may be.

Sincerely
W. J. Waten

Dear Mr. Waken:

I am sorry to be delayed in answering your March letter sending me copies of your Missouri token collection. I was disappointed in the group as I expected you to have very much more. However, why don't you make a suggestion as to exchanging the Missouri tokens for something I photocopied and sent you. You can make the suggestion with or without the lucky pennies, or with or without the Louisiana Purchase Exposition medals.

Maybe if we can work out this kind of a deal, something else might come along where I can trade you future Oklahoma material.

Sincerely yours,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr. Newman:

You did a paper on Benjamin Franklin for the recent International Numismatic Congress. Is it for sale, Xeroxed or otherwise? I would very much like to have a copy.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Walker:

Pursuant to your request of November 11, 1973, I am forwarding the publication of an article on Franklin which contains most of the material presented to the International Congress. I hope it serves your purpose, but if you need additional data, I will try to be helpful.

There is no charge for this item, but if you want to make a little contribution for research purposes to this organization, you are free to do so.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Wally:

I found someone who will repair the Cox Till which you had for sale and I am willing to buy it for the £70 if you still have it. I will send you the funds immediately on hearing from you. Please be sure to tape the cups onto the flat part so it cannot fall off. I will appreciate your cooperation and will arrange to have the Cox Till picked up unless you wish to take it for me to some convenient pickup point.

Best regards to you and Angie.

Dear Eric,

Yes, we still have the till, and will put it aside to be collected. We shall be happy to take it to a pick up point if it is within a few miles of Alfie's- as we do not have our own transport. Please make the cheque payable to D.F. Wallis. If there is anything else in that line you are interested in, let us know and we will keep an eye open for you. We hope to see you next time you are in England,

Best Wishes,

Angie & Wally.

Dear Angie and Wally:

Enclosed are American Express checks 50/958901 for £50 and 411 037 283 for £20 in payment for the Cox Pub Till. You will be contacted by someone from A. Fleming (Southsea) Ltd. of Portsmouth, England, as to what they wish you to do about delivering it in London or not. Please tape the drawer closed and tape both cups to the counter so they won't roll away.

I appreciate your prompt response and will be glad to buy more from you if you can locate things. Please send me a drawing or description and I'll let you know by return mail. Be sure to give me as much detail as you can. Make a fair profit but don't quote Gray's prices. If there are defects, please describe them.

I collect English and American coin scales, coin changers, coin tills, brass coin weights and coin holders, (not cash registers of the more modern type). On my current list is a mahogany and glass gold coin changer with stacked cups to hold change inside the glass door. You can see one at the City of London Museum (which is one of the best laid out museums I have seen) in the little Pub exhibit on the counter. I enclose a drawing. I already have two similar ones in cast iron which are known as Garrett's Bijou Gold Changer.

I am enclosing pictures of folding guinea scales. I would like any type in brass boxes and some in wood with weights inside. I need oval box coin scales covered in shark skin or ray. You probably can locate many items I can use if you wander around or have knockers who are friends. England seems to have an endless supply of antiques. I enjoy collecting things other people rarely care for. Naturally I collect coins themselves and paper money but that is not your cup of tea.

I look forward to hearing from you about new finds.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr Newman

Please find enclosed 12 zero4 copies of the notes I need. I really don't know how to value them because they are seldom offered for sale. I don't know the value of the Missouri tokens either but we must have a starting point some place. If we would use the tokens for a base at lets say $500, we could go from there. I know the prices & values are immaterial but if you could figure some value on your notes we can certainly make a trade satisfactory for both.

I am also enclosing a current want list for my Okla & Kansas bank notes. Any help will be appreciated. Also if you have a want list I will

Dear Mr. Morgan:

I read your interesting article in this morning's State Democrat.

I am especially interested because I have a coin which is an old one but do not know if there is a value to it.
I am not an artist so made the impressions (enclosed) in a very crude manner but thought it just might give you some idea of what the coin is. The coin seems to be either brass, copper...or even silver lined gold.

The only visible date is 180-.

I am enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope and if you could like to see the coin I could mail it to you. However if you believe it is of no value I will forget the whole possibility of having something of value.

Sincerely,

Wm. H. Morgan

Dear Mrs. Ward:

Thank you for asking me to speak at the Institute at Ed Rochette's suggestion. I am glad that your last year's program has been continued into more advanced topics. I read about your program but would appreciate being informed as to the number previously in attendance, the method of selecting or inviting the "students", and by whom the program is funded.

I am a summer seminar lecturer at the American Numismatic Society, but see no conflict in that regard.

I would suggest you change your general topic to either "Numismatic Authentication" or "Forgery Detection" if that is what you intend. If you will read my article in the April 1979 Numismatist you will see the need of a distinction between a counterfeit and a forgery.

If I gave a program I would wish to include Early American coins as well as paper money and would not care to include grading.

Please let me hear from you.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr. Newman:

Thank you for your note of April 30. I will try to answer your questions.

The first basic course in numismatics held in October of 1978 had 41 students. These students responded to the course through articles in Barron's, Coin World and Numismatic News.

The program is part of Adelphi University and is funded by contributions from the members of the Board of Governors. However, tuition revenues will soon help to ease the financial strain.

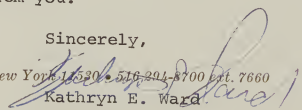

If possible, we would like you to lecture on Saturday, October 27 on Authentication of Early American Coins and Paper Money. If this date is not suitable, please let me know and I will adjust it.

Mr. Apfelbaum and I greatly appreciate your lecturing for the Institute. There is indeed a satisfaction in knowing that we are able to offer interested students a wealth of valuable guidance and information from such experienced and renowned lecturers.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Newman:

I am writing to you at the prompting of Mr. Edward Rochette. He was kind enough to offer to pass this letter on to you.

As you may be aware, in the Fall of 1978 a pioneering effort in the field of numismatic and philatelic studies was begun. The Institute of Numismatic and Philatelic Studies of Adelphi University was founded and warmly accepted.

At first, we offered a course in basic numismatic studies and were fortunate to have expert speakers for the 8 week course. Each of the lecturers spoke for approximately 2 hours on their field of expertise.

In the Fall of 1979, we will offer a more advanced course of study, Counterfeit Detection and Authentication. Mr. Rochette has suggested that you would be the expert in the field of colonial currency. Would you please honor us by speaking on the subject of grading, counterfeit detection and authentication of colonial currency? We would like to schedule you for Saturday, October 6, 1979. If the date is not suitable, please let me know as I may be able to adjust it to your schedule.

Thank you and I look forward to hearing from you shortly.

Dear Mrs. Ward:

Your letter of May 31, 1979, is at hand. I will be in Europe on October 27, 1979. How long will the course run after October 6, 1979? Is it Saturday only? While I always like to promote numismatic education I must point out that I have not yet agreed to give a program. I will have to know whether the students are college level or not, whether they are tuition paying and about how many there will be.

As to the topic assigned to me, I do not think it is appropriate as I believe it is more important for students to learn something about the history of genuine pieces first before going into authentication. Perhaps "Benjamin Franklin's Contribution to Numismatics" would be a better topic for you to consider.

This may sound negative, but please remember I live in St. Louis and I should not make a special trip to New York unless it seems fully worthwhile.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mrs. Ward:

Thank you for asking me to speak at the Institute at Ed Rochette's suggestion. I am glad that your last year's program has been continued into more advanced topics. I read about your program but would appreciate being informed as to the number previously in attendance, the method of selecting or inviting the "students", and by whom the program is funded.

I am a summer seminar lecturer at the American Numismatic Society, but see no conflict in that regard.

I would suggest you change your general topic to either "Numismatic Authentication" or "Forgery Detection" if that is what you intend. If you will read my article in the April 1979 Numismatist you will see the need of a distinction between a counterfeit and a forgery.

If I gave a program I would wish to include Early American coins as well as paper money and would not care to include grading.

Please let me hear from you.

Sincerely,

Dear Miss Kell:

Have you any notion who these worthies might be?

Their likenesses appeared on script of the state on the date appearing; they were presumably officers of the Union Army or of the state of Missouri; and two have the shoulder insigne and button arrangements of brigadier generals.

A correspondent by the name of Marckhoff in Elgin, Ills., who thinks I am an authority on the subject, has been pestering me for months about these fellows. I advised him to write you about them; but apparently he hasn't done so.

If any one of them strikes a chord, I should be indebted for a line or two, at your convenience.

With thanks for past favors - which helped to make Generals in Gray possible - and with kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

Encs.

Dear Ms. Ward:

Thank you for telephoning us in answer to our inquiry about the location of the source of the coin scale we are working on. You asked for a photocopy of the label. I enclose a very poor one. I am enclosing my handwritten detail of what is on the label supplemented with the data I already know.

Who is Lewis Deblois and where did he live?

Where is Golden Eagle dock?

Where did Thomas Johnston work and live?

Any assistance you can provide will be most appreciated. This is a mystery full of specific clues.

For your kindness we will be glad to send you the 1976 edition of The Early Paper Money Of America, which I wrote if you do not already have it or a later edition in your library.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

P.S. Probable cities could be Boston, Salem, Newburyport, Plymouth, or Yarmouth with remote possibilities at Piscataqua, Cape Ann, Newport, Providence, New London, New Haven, etc.

Dear Ms. Warde:

When I looked at the list of speakers for the Missouri conference on history and noticed your topic I felt that you might be able to help solve a numismatic problem we have.

We own a piece of Creek Nation scrip issued in 1862 at North Fork on the Canadian River by a trader whom we cannot identify by his signature on the note. Can you help us identify who it was?

As you know North Fork was abandoned as a Creek center when they moved to a railroad stop nearby.

We have a nice collection of Indian Nation money as well as Indian trader money and would appreciate your help in properly identifying the item. A photocopy is enclosed. The piece is unique as far as we know now.

Please let me have your telephone number when you respond.

Dear Mrs. Warde:

You are just the person I was looking for. I sincerely thank you for the information in the letter of February 20, 1994. Because the question I asked was so easy I have to try to do better and ask harder ones. Since you wanted to see our American native money I will ask you some open questions about it before you come. Unfortunately I will be in Costa Rica when you come for the conference. I want to meet you on your next visit to your sister.

I think the printing of the Rodgers note was done in Fort Smith (see enclosed Mayer's note).

There are some inquiries on the photocopies enclosed which you may easily be able to answer.

I have sent a few more photocopies from our collection so you can see how fascinating this native money is. I will talk to you by telephone after you receive this letter.

Thank you for your wonderful cooperation and stored up knowledge.

Dear Ms. Warnock:

You have been very cooperative in my paper money research. I sincerely thank you. The mystery has been solved as to Goddard 1763 (Evans 9521) by a comment on the micro card in entry 9521 with the broadside which states that the Evans entry was prepared erroneously from an advertisement and that the correct printer is Samael Hall not Goddard and the city was Newport and not Providence. There was I believe confusion between the 1763 and 1764 broadsides. You are not missing any such item fortunately. I am sending some detail on the 1764 broadside to those interested in English halfpence circulating in America. This was a triple serendipity bonus just as the location of your 1764 broadside came to light because I was reading a book on early American typefounding.

Would you send me another photocopy or two of the 1764 broadside as I cannot duplicate what you sent but can easily read it. I need a little time to study information on the Acts you sent to see if there is something I did not find in researching for my book. I am sending you a copy of my Early Paper Money of America for your library division in appreciation of what you are doing for me. Incidentally we have had for about 50 years in our collection a printed Rhode Island broadside of the Declaration of Independence with the Rhode Island General Assembly approval below the primary text. It has written on the back for the Town Clerk of Warwick. I presume you have one, even though they are probably rarer than the Philadelphia printing.

With much appreciation,

Dear Jan:

Thank you for the October 18, 1996 response to my inquiry about the number of copper Myddeltons. I am glad you have sought auction records but wonder how duplication can be avoided if the records are spread.

Since writing you a festschrift has been published containing an article by Breen written in 1986 or 1987. It covers Myddelton and refers to Dick Margolis as a source. It states 7 copper pieces were made. It is not clear if more were struck in silver or in copper. The copper estimate of Breen is probably a guess, just like his guess that others may have been struck later. Margolis is writing an article on the subject and indicates that the 7 were all that were struck prior to 1819.

Let me know what you find.

Thanks,

In Numismatic News for October 1, 1996, p. 22 you list the copper Myddleton token in you top ten coppers. You say there are about 20 plus in silver, but do not indicate how many there are of the rarer copper pieces. What information do you have on the number of copper ones ?

As to the coin being only a pattern so are the Jefferson cent and 1787 New York piece in your list.

Please answer this reader with any information you can find.

I said that I would write to you about the large Chapman catalogues.

Mine are complete with the following exceptions:

On the Zabriskie Catalogue, Plates 1 and 6 are missing.

On the Gable Catalogue, at least half the plates are missing.

I have no plates in the Baldwin, Brown, Parsons and the 1918 Bement.

I do not have a copy of the Hunter Catalogue.

Is there anything that you can suggest that will be beneficial to my library for use for my research?

I presume you noticed that Kreisberg has a number of Chapman catalogues in his coming sale.

Dear friend:

Your letter of 16 March 1999 as to the Lewis Deblois problem is most appreciated. Your conclusions are correct. The Historical and Genealogical Journal of New England lists Lewis Deblois on Dock Square before the Revolution when he apparently left Boston. His relatives stayed there. It was confused by the fact that "dock" was not capitalized as it should have been. The letter I thought was the script capital "L" is quite similar to a script capital "S". The script "s" is scuffed at the bottom and easily could be a script "q". The use of "ye" in reference to a store sign was customary as you indicate. The Golden Eagle store of Deblois was operating in 1749 when the scale was sold. So far I find the scale label unique. It was engraved by Thomas Johnston of Boston whose name is on it.

Re: Attorneys fees in Naftzger matters

Your December 7, 1999 fax came while I was in Asia. John Horan has written me since then as to the work of our California counsel (Leonard) and sent me a copy of a May 21, 1998 agreement ANS signed to pay the Leonard firm for their work. I have no recollection of that agreement. The Leonard firm, according to Horan, have been very helpful in the last few years but I have had no contact with them whatsoever since 1993. Horan feels we need them currently so I want to review the current invoice situation.

For that I need copies of the entire legal billing from the Horan firm and from the Leonard firm as I do not have this data in my file. Please include the record of payments which were primarily out-of-pocket expense. This goes back to 1991. This is very complex because the court ordered in Naftzger I that all our attorneys fees are to be paid by Naftzger and now the court will determine what fees are reasonable. The Naftzger II primary controversial issue was raised in Naftzger I and abandoned by them in that case. The legal fee award in Naftzger I may also be carried over and be applied to Naftzger II if the court permits it. I want the Leonard firm to assert that claim as well as the Horan firm for the work done in both Naftzger I and Naftzger II.

Horan has told me that if the court does not grant attorneys fees relative to the accomplished results of the litigation that ANS should pay part of it out of the punitive damages it is to receive. I have therefore urged a major effort to have our attorneys show how difficult, how complex and how long their work has been. That is why I need the detail of the invoices in the ANS records so far back. I do not wish to ask Horan for them as that may cause an unnecessary ANS expense.

Our opponents vigorously oppose everything ANS does and try to drag out every proceeding to try to wear ANS out. ANS has rightfully won a major victory and we need as large a sum as we are entitled to. We have to find a way to take care of our attorneys properly because our original fee basis is no longer applicable in several respects.

We asked for the coins in escrow to be released and our opponents have not cooperated. ANS is to receive 10% interest on the value of the coins recovered as well as 10% interest on the money judgment for $229,500, all beginning in November 1997 so we should receive benefit from their delays.

I would like to have a copy of the agreement between ANS and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York as to the loan.

For a month or so I have wondered whether the exhibit cases would be turned over to ANS after 5 years (or after any agreed extension). I mentioned this informally to some of our group.

I also wanted to be sure ANS receives adequate recognition in all publicity and signage as to the exhibit and whether that is in the contract.

Our Metropolitan Museum exhibit was rather neglected. I also call attention to the small amount of paper money (particularly U.S.) in the loan. Will the Fed be using some of their own?

The items in the loan are sensational.

Thanks for your help.

Several people saw this note when he had it about 10 years ago. I was never shown the note or had a photocopy of it. Jacquette said that when he sold his collection this note went to you. Do you know who has it now? Do you have a recollection of it? I was concerned that it might be an alteration of the denomination or have some other problem. Dear Ruth:

I hope that the sale of your husband's collection was good to you.

My representative at the sale told me that he heard that you had retained about 5 percent of the collection.

I was hoping to acquire a small brass rocker which Lewis sent me a photocopy of long ago. Is it possible that you still have this? I enclose a copy of the picture. May I hear from you?

My best wishes,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Prof. Wells:

What an exciting class I had the privilege to visit. It demonstrated humor, power and incisive thinking. I will never forget it. You were the master guide. I read your manuscript and was very glad you gave me the opportunity. You asked for suggestions and here they are. From an economic point of view, even if it is stated in prior literature, you might include the value to a business of issuing tokens and the relationship of the businesses to shopkeepers. Did the shops pay rent or a percentage of sales or a percentage of tokens returned to the business. Were any of the shops "company stores"? Was the amount of tokens in circulation a free means of borrowing and paying no interest? Was the loss of tokens in circulation profitable to the business? Was payroll paid in tokens? What did the businesses use to pay shopkeepers to redeem the tokens? References to unnumbered pages are in () for the following insignificant suggested changes.

(2) state date of Indonesian independence in first paragraph.

(4), l. 9, words and numbers

(4), l. 12, Were arabic numbers always used on the tokens?

If not show other systems.

(6), l. 3, weighing instead of measuring

(6), l. 10, (bon pour in French) might be added as it is a well known numismatic term.

(7) near end of the large paragraph, two instead of wo.

(8) last line "that" instead of "this".

2, l 5, coconuts.

2, after Indonesian Borneo perhaps it would be well to put Kalimantan if that is correct.

Can the text of your book be printed in English, Dutch and Indonesian or in English and whatever language seems best for the future. The description of coins could be in one language but preferably in at least two. Readership will be much greater if the language barrier is simplified. You have a Dutch coauthor and he could do it.

I will look at my Dutch East Indies coins as soon as I can to see if I have any tokens by accident.

I hope I have been slightly helpful.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Ms. Welshimer:

Thank you very much for the film and xerox copies of those currency notes you were kind enough to dispatch. I was delayed in answering. I believe you may wish to review my present findings for additional varieties or corrections. I enclose a revised list of those I believe exist. Will you check them against your holdings?

As to the 1803 small change notes from Salem, I believe these are from Salem, New Jersey. Is there any record of individuals by the name of Samuel Stots or Conrad Vorenser in Old Salem?

Thank you again for your cooperation.

Dear Mr. Wendt:

Your piece is a trimmed down German Sixteenth Century counter known as a Rechenpfennig. It provided both arithmetic and language education in addition to being used for commercial purposes.

There are many articles written on the subject.

It is also known as a Jeton, in French, and a casting counter in English.

The 8 escudo Spanish colonial piece dated 1730 and 1741, and with the legends PHILIPUS DG HISPAN as well as REX ANO 1730 PLUS ULTRA 741 etc is in our opinion a forgery made in modern times. It should be made of gold if genuine. This opinion is prejudiced by not seeing the piece, but there are design items which are not according to the standards of normal genuine pieces.

We hope we have been helpful.

Dear Eric P. Newman,

Sir, I have read your book; The Early Paper Money of America. It was very interesting because I have some old money.

One was printed in New Jersey on March 25, 1776. It was printed by Isaac Collins. Also signed by Jonathan Deane, Robert Smith and Joseph Smith. For 18 Pence or 1 shilling 6 Pence.

I am inquiring to see if you are interested. I am also willing to bring it to you if worthwhile.

I also have a bill of money from New York signed & printed Aug. 13, 1776. Printed by Samuel Fendin. Signed by D. Messier, and J. V. Voorhis, Jr. For 10 Spanish Milled Dollars.

If you are interested please contact me at this phone No.

Dear Mr. Newman,

Enclosed is a copy of the Ben Franklin block of four.
I am dissappointed in the copy because it came out dark and mottled; whereas the originals are very clean and bright.

At one time the sheet had been folded vertically and horizontally, but fortunately not through the currency itself, as they are crisp.

I hope this information will increase your knowledge, to the benefit of all collectors via your new book.

It was a great pleasure talking with you and I am looking forward to your new publication.

It was so nice to see you at Worcester and I thank you for bringing your Ormsby for me to see. My time was so limited I barely had a chance to chat with you, but I am sure you realized my time was not my own.

The Morrisiana Bank and other issued a one design banknote by Ormsby. Unfortunately his jobs were not extensive due to intense competition. Ormsby is written up somewhat in the Essay Proof Journal.

My very best wishes.

Hi Eric:

How's Laban Heath doing?

I got a Heath Pocket Detector the other day which is worth telling you about, it's a late edition.

as stated in the title - "Illustrated with entire new plates of both greenbacks and national bank notes." It also states, it's the 15th edition, published in 1887. On page 5, it states,
~~the~~ "introduction to the 12th edition," Following this and beginning on page 9 is A FEW HINTS TO AID IN DETECTING COUNTERFEIT MONEY by George Casilear of The U.S. Treasury Dept. Page 17 is the beginning of Chapter 1

There are 10 plates which illustrate
U.S. Notes and National Bank Notes - all faces 1-[#]100 and reverse of Nationals 2-[#]100.

NOTE
EXHIBIT

of great interest to me Eric is "Heath's Improved Adjustable", Compound Microscope which was (Patented December 25, 1877) Cut #1 shows glass open - Cut 2 shows glass closed. I'm sure you must have seen this Heath Pocket Detector at one time or another.

I will say, this is, the first I have encountered and pleased to add this to my collection Eric.

KOLBE-WILSON

I looked through my [^] literature auctions and found only ^{WHICH} ^{WAS} 1/2 in Jack Collins, 1 October 83 sale. His was a large size counting house. 1887 13th edition

It appears any 1887 edition ~~is~~ would be scarcer than all the other editions put together

So long for now,

Take care Eric

"I'd sure like to find one of those microscopes, who knows when, maybe some day"

Best Regards

Dear Bob

It's always great to hear from you. I have never stopped working on the Heath matter and have learned more about his patents and also about his various editions. I did locate some correspondence with the Treasury Dept and I am waiting copies. This can be very revealing. It's in 1871, 1874 and 1873. I will have other funds searched now that I know where to locate it.

Your 1887 pocket Heath is fine. The 15th edition is dated 1887 and 1889 so far as I now know. The 14th edition is 1883 and the 13th 1881. The 12th is 1877 and 1878. They all have the "circular" chapter. There may be other intervening dates.

As to the microscope I have never seen one and you will probably find one.

I have sent out a form to people to get info on Heaths. A sample is enclosed. It makes it easier for them to submit data.

Keep digging and keep finding good things

My best

Gene

Dear Bob:

I am submitting to you the computer copy of my article on the Heath Counterfeit Detectors. You have played such an important part in gathering the facts for this article that I thought you should have it far in advance of its publication. You should feel free to make suggestions for improvements promptly, if you wish to, as I still have time to make minor changes.

The Table of Contents on pages 117 & 118 will, I hope, be in the front of the article rather than where they are. I hope that you will find much of the material new to you and interesting to read. It was lots of fun to write this article and sometimes frustrating to get the facts together.

My very best wishes.

Sincerely,

Dear Bob:

It was kind of you to write me about the fuss they are making at ANA and AMS by using me for a fund raising event.

You were one who always encouraged me and helped me solve difficult problems. Crosby would like to have had the opportunity of thanking you but I thank you on his behalf since you sent me his family photograph which I cherish.

I am 85 but have not stopped writing. I enclose my latest publication.

Your handwriting indicates you are in fine shape so stay that way.

Dear Bob:

What a delight to hear from you. You look younger and brighter than ever. I see you stay involved and so do I. I am still writing and researching but for the last five years working hard on a law suit involving cents stolen from the American Numismatic Society by Dr. William Sheldon in 1950. What a mess.

If you want a copy of my 4th edition of The Early Paper Money of America it will be a pleasure to send it to you. You only have to promise to read a couple of pages to qualify for the gift. I am proud to have used Crosby's title, slightly modified.

I am now 87 and work every day on numismatic research. My wife and I are building a large butterfly house here in a park and will import and display live butterflies from all over the world.

We just returned from a trip to Mount St. Helens in Oregon and studied its eruption. Recently we were in South Africa for my grandson's wedding.

There is nothing better than knowing people like you.

Thrive,

Eric P. Newman

P.S. The English purchase of the "Alfred" was probably like the purchase of art and real estate during the Holocaust. It looks good to say you purchased it even though you paid only a trifle and acquired it under forced circumstances.

Mr. Robert Wester

Dear Bob:

Your postal card of congratulations was not only appreciated but I am delighted to know where you are and that you are enjoying things. Your message was delayed by an incomplete address but the P.O. Dept. finally found me.

You must realize that people like you helped me so much in my research and writing. You were the Crosby expert. You were the continual seeker of further facts. You were always more than cooperative. I thank you again for all of your help.

I also treasure the Crosby family picture which you sent me.

My wife and I were in Costa Rica about 5 years ago and we thought it was a gem. We particularly liked the Tortugas estuary boat trips.

Three years ago my wife built and operates a large tropical butterfly house in a park here and we have had 300,000 visitors. We buy some of the chrysalis from Costa Rica and they come in by mail. We have just turned over the conservatory to the Missouri Botanical Garden so we can work on another public project. Even Costa Rican postage stamps have butterflies.

I want to hear from you as to anything we can do for you here. I can send you anything you might need or not need.

I have so much to tell you I think we should be in steady contact. I will send you if you wish my article on the history of the $ sign for you have not read it. It involves much Spanish American background and that is what you are involved in every day.

Thrive,

Eric P. Newman

During the Christmas holidays I neglected to respond to your letter with respect to the St. Louis World's Fair Award Medal inquiry.

These are reasonably common and would ordinarily sell for between $2.50 and $5.00.

It is difficult, however, to find those who wish this material. Perhaps a coin shop, in Salt Lake City, might offer to sell it for you on consignment.

I am returning the photographs and the description which was prepared by Smithsonian Institution.

Dear Louis:

You were very thoughtful to write me a letter on the Money Museum. The public seems to be enjoying it.

As to your inquiry with respect to notes which look like regular United States money, but were issued by individual banks, I believe you are referring to National Bank Notes which were issued from 1863 through 1929 and contain the name of the national bank which was the issuer. These were backed by treasury bonds. There were examples on exhibit and if your interest reflects the interests of others, then I should have a display of these National Bank Notes.

You were very kind to write.
